NESN on Thursday announced that it will broadcast 24 spring training games and live, multi-platform coverage as part of its 2026 Red Sox spring training broadcast schedule. The first major league televised matchup is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 21 at 1 p.m. ET when the Red Sox play the Minnesota Twins at Lee Health Sports Complex in Fort Myers, Fla.

NESN's comprehensive, multi-platform spring training coverage across NESN, NESN 360, and social platforms also includes regular programs "Red Sox From Fort Myers," presented by MassMutual "310 to Left," presented by Ford, and "NESN Digs: JetBlue Park" – a new behind-the-scenes series offering fans an inside look at the Red Sox spring training home.

NESN will air 12 home games live from JetBlue Park, along with select opponent-produced broadcasts and simulcasts available via local broadcast partners: WHDH (Boston), WWAX (Hartford), WPXT and its affiliate MeTV Portland (Portland), and WYCI (Burlington). Every game also will stream live on NESN 360, available through participating TV providers or a direct subscription.
