Summary

Atlanta News First (WANF) and Peachtree Sports Network (PSN) have renewed their full-season local television broadcast agreement with the Atlanta Dream for the 2026 WNBA season. Every Dream game not carried by a national broadcaster will air on WANF, WPCH (Peachtree TV), or PSN, putting Dream basketball within reach of households across Georgia and the broader Southeast.

Article

For the first time, every local broadcast will open with a dedicated pre-game show hosted by Atlanta News First Sports Director Baillie Burmaster, featuring scouting reports, player spotlights, and a look around the WNBA. The 2026 national broadcast partners include ABC/ESPN, Amazon Prime Video, CBS Sports/Paramount+, ION, NBC/Peacock, and USA Network; that national schedule will be released at a later date.

"Atlanta News First, Peachtree TV and Peachtree Sports Network are proud to be the home for Dream basketball, and we're excited to expand the coverage with a new pre-game show that adds even more context and storytelling for fans," said Erik Schrader, general manager of WANF and WPCH. Morgan Shaw Parker, president and COO of the Atlanta Dream, added that Gray Media has "invested heavily in allowing us to grow the game and ensure our athletes are household names both in Atlanta and across the region."

Broadcast Team & Season Tip-Off

- Angel Gray — play-by-play, sixth consecutive season.
- Tabitha Turner — analyst, sixth straight season (eighth overall).
- Autumn Johnson — sideline reporter, sixth year.
- Baillie Burmaster — new pre-game show host, ANF Sports Director.

The Dream open the 2026 season on Sunday, May 10 at the Minnesota Lynx, with the home opener set for Sunday, May 17 at 3 p.m. ET against the defending WNBA champion Las Vegas Aces at State Farm Arena.
